

Miss Ferriday Going on Stage in Sothern Company

Young Woman of Society to Have Theatrical Debut in Shakespeare.

Miss Carolyn W. Ferriday, daughter of Mrs. Henry McKeen Ferriday of 31 East Fifth street, has extended the lengthening list of young women of New York society who have elected to find a career on the stage. Next week she will make her debut in Shakespearean repertoire as a member of E. H. Sothern's company. Miss Ferriday is a cousin of the late Gardiner G. Howland and is a relative of Mrs. James Russell Boy.

Miss Ferriday has had the idea of becoming an actress since her school days. While finishing at the Chapin School, from which she was graduated last year, and while taking her place among the other debutantes and members of the Junior League she was continuing her dramatic studies and preparing herself for her professional debut.

Mr. and Mrs. Sothern are long time friends of Mrs. Ferriday and her daughter, and at this and previous visits to New York have been frequent guests at their city home and their country place in Bethlehem, Conn., near Littlefield. They told her that when she found her opportunity to "stand on her own feet."

"So my daughter's opportunity has come," said Mrs. Ferriday yesterday. "I have encouraged her in her dramatic inclinations. It is an excellent thing for our young women to try and make a career for themselves. Mr. and Mrs. Sothern have kindly given her an opportunity for a 'try out.' She will be a part of the background as a general understudy. The quality of her work under Mr. and Mrs. Sothern will determine her future. If she shows merit as an actress she will continue her career on the stage."

Mrs. Ferriday and her daughter returned from the Hay, their country place in Bethlehem, in time for Miss Ferriday to rehearse.

PITTSBURGH POLICE CLOSE 'DEMI-VIRGIN'

Avery Hopwood's New Farce
Is Placed Under Ban.

A. H. Woods was notified yesterday that after allowing it to play without interference all last week, including Friday night, the police of Pittsburgh decided yesterday to close his production of Avery Hopwood's new farce, "The Demi-Virgin," at the Pitt Theatre. The manager of the company received notice just before the matinee that the last two performances would not be permitted. The information was communicated to Mr. Woods here by telephone, but no specific reason for the police action was given.

Mr. Hopwood and the company will return to New York tonight and rehearse at the Eltinge Theatre tomorrow. The cast includes Miss Hazel Dawn, Kenneth Douglas, Miss Constance Fisher, Glenn Anders, Miss Alice Hiegemann and others. The play will be rehearsed in New York all next week, Mr. Woods says, and will play in Stamford, Avery Park and Far Rockaway the following week before being presented on Broadway.

¶ Made for Our New Home at Fifth Avenue, 56th and 57th Streets, which we had hoped to occupy the first of October, but which through force of circumstances we are not able to get into until somewhat later in the Fall (because of Decorations and Equipment being installed).

¶ The Fashions are those that have swayed Paris and Europe, at the "openings" of the various Couturiers during the past several weeks, and include their Greatest Successes; they have been selected and brought over here by our own representatives—the Materials—are from the Finest Looms of France, England and America; if a Fur, the choicest Pelts in the World—the Workmanship—such only as the critical clientele of the House of Gidding would expect.

¶ In a word—the full experience of our many years of importing and making has been centered in the introduction of fashions for the smartly gowned woman of America. We had hoped to present them in our Beautiful, New Twelve-Story Building this very Autumn, but, as is so often the case with construction, decorating and equipment work, have been disappointed, and our set plans did not materialize.

¶ We are, therefore, taking the alternative and offering them in our Present Quarters, which, if not as beautiful as we hope to have our new home, will make up in point of value what they lack in beauty of surroundings. This should be of vital interest to the Woman accustomed to wearing Tailors, Coats, Wraps, Gowns, Hats and Furs of the Gidding standard, because of the very great saving each item represents, and because of the very large and choice selection she can have at this time.

¶ We invite you to see this Autumn and Winter display and make your own comparisons, both as to the Fashions themselves and the intrinsic values they represent—you owe that to yourself whether you have your Gown, Tailleur, Wrap or Hat made to your own order, or choose same from our unusually extensive selections of Fashions ready for immediate wear.

HATHAWAY Upholstered Furniture

THERE is an art in the building of Upholstered Pieces which only time reveals. Structural excellence, essential to lasting comfort and sightliness, does not appear upon the surface.

Our insistence upon this internal quality has been the principal factor in establishing the reputation of Hathaway Upholstered Furniture. No Davenport or Easy Chair can find a place in our showrooms until it has satisfied our rigid requirements in this particular.

This season's collection is even more complete and varied than those of previous years, and the values are more attractive. A limited number of floor samples are marked at
